

Community Activist

Building Skills and Knowledge

Training Resource Pack

The South East & Central CLD Workforce Development Consortium is delighted to launch our Community Activist Training Resource Pack.

The purpose of the pack is to help practitioners to provide training and support for community activists and volunteers to build on the underpinning knowledge and skills required to work more effectively in their communities, and to develop opportunities for growth and change.

Community Activist

Building Skills and Knowledge

Training Resource Pack

The South East & Central CLD Workforce Development Consortium is delighted to launch our Community Activist Training Resource Pack.

The purpose of the pack is to help practitioners to provide training and support for community activists and volunteers to build on the underpinning knowledge and skills required to work more effectively in their communities, and to develop opportunities for growth and change.

South East & Central CLD
Workforce Development
Consortium

The training resource materials for the 'Community Activist: building skills and knowledge' training resource pack are hosted on i-develop, in the Standards Council for CLD in Scotland website. I-develop is a web based framework to support creative and innovative learning and development for CLD practitioners, based on the values, principles, skills and competences they need as communities, individuals and employers.

For further information on the 'Community Activist' training pack and the work of the South, East & Central CLD Workforce Development Consortium, please contact our Chair: Diann Govenlock, Community Development Office, Musselburgh East Community Learning Centre, Haddington Road, Musselburgh, EH21 8JJ dgovenlock@eastlothian.gov.uk

South East & Central CLD
Workforce Development
Consortium

The training resource materials for the 'Community Activist: building skills and knowledge' training resource pack are hosted on i-develop, in the Standards Council for CLD in Scotland website. I-develop is a web based framework to support creative and innovative learning and development for CLD practitioners, based on the values, principles, skills and competences they need as communities, individuals and employers.

For further information on the 'Community Activist' training pack and the work of the South, East & Central CLD Workforce Development Consortium, please contact our Chair: Diann Govenlock, Community Development Office, Musselburgh East Community Learning Centre, Haddington Road, Musselburgh, EH21 8JJ dgovenlock@eastlothian.gov.uk