

What's the one thing that made you feel hopeful today?

Common ground	Being able to share and learn what others are doing	The passion of the CLD sector.	to see how passionate people are
Felt colleagues were really clear and on the same page	CLD values are forefront in the work we do	Feeling that we are a strong sector also feeling very proud to be a CLDW	We are strong together
A shared hope	Commitment and positivity of CLD practitioners to continue to improve outcomes for individuals and communities	The turnout - given the scale of cuts and restrictions on travel - it was great to see so many colleagues able to attend.	That we have strong CLD voices that together can be heard widely and loudly
We are all in this together and hope/wish for the same outcomes for CLD	Everyone seems to be in the same boat but if we stick to our principles we can't really go far wrong.	There are a lot of good people that care about the future of our sector and the communities we live and work in.	Reassured that there are great individuals in the workforce pushing forward
Passion about the CLD sector and practitioners/managers coming together	Great to be together with a shared purpose, hope for the future of CLD	That its beyond qualifications and money 💰 its about people	Reconnecting with colleagues
People are still passionate and invested in the service	Feeling of community amongst like minded people.	Shared concerns and shared determination	That someone listens. No one in the room is in disagreement, but those making the decisions aren't here
Passion of CLD and the focus on opportunities, challenging ourselves to make improvements and promote CLD	An opportunity to have dialogue with other practitioners	Confirmation of a common purpose	Strength of desire to address inequalities
Being in a space with fellow CLD. Outwith own authority. Great to see more than a screen	People actually being in the room	The positive responses from the sector. We're not just waiting to be told what to do by the govt	That we have passion, drive and commitment for what we do with our communities.

CLD is still demonstrating positive outcomes in communities.	A collective understanding and broad consensus	we need to lead, and not be led	A collective of passionate practitioners with joint vision
Open discussion and forward thinking	CLD key	I felt there is a clear consensus around the core social purpose of CLD which focused on social justice and transformative change
