Self-evaluation

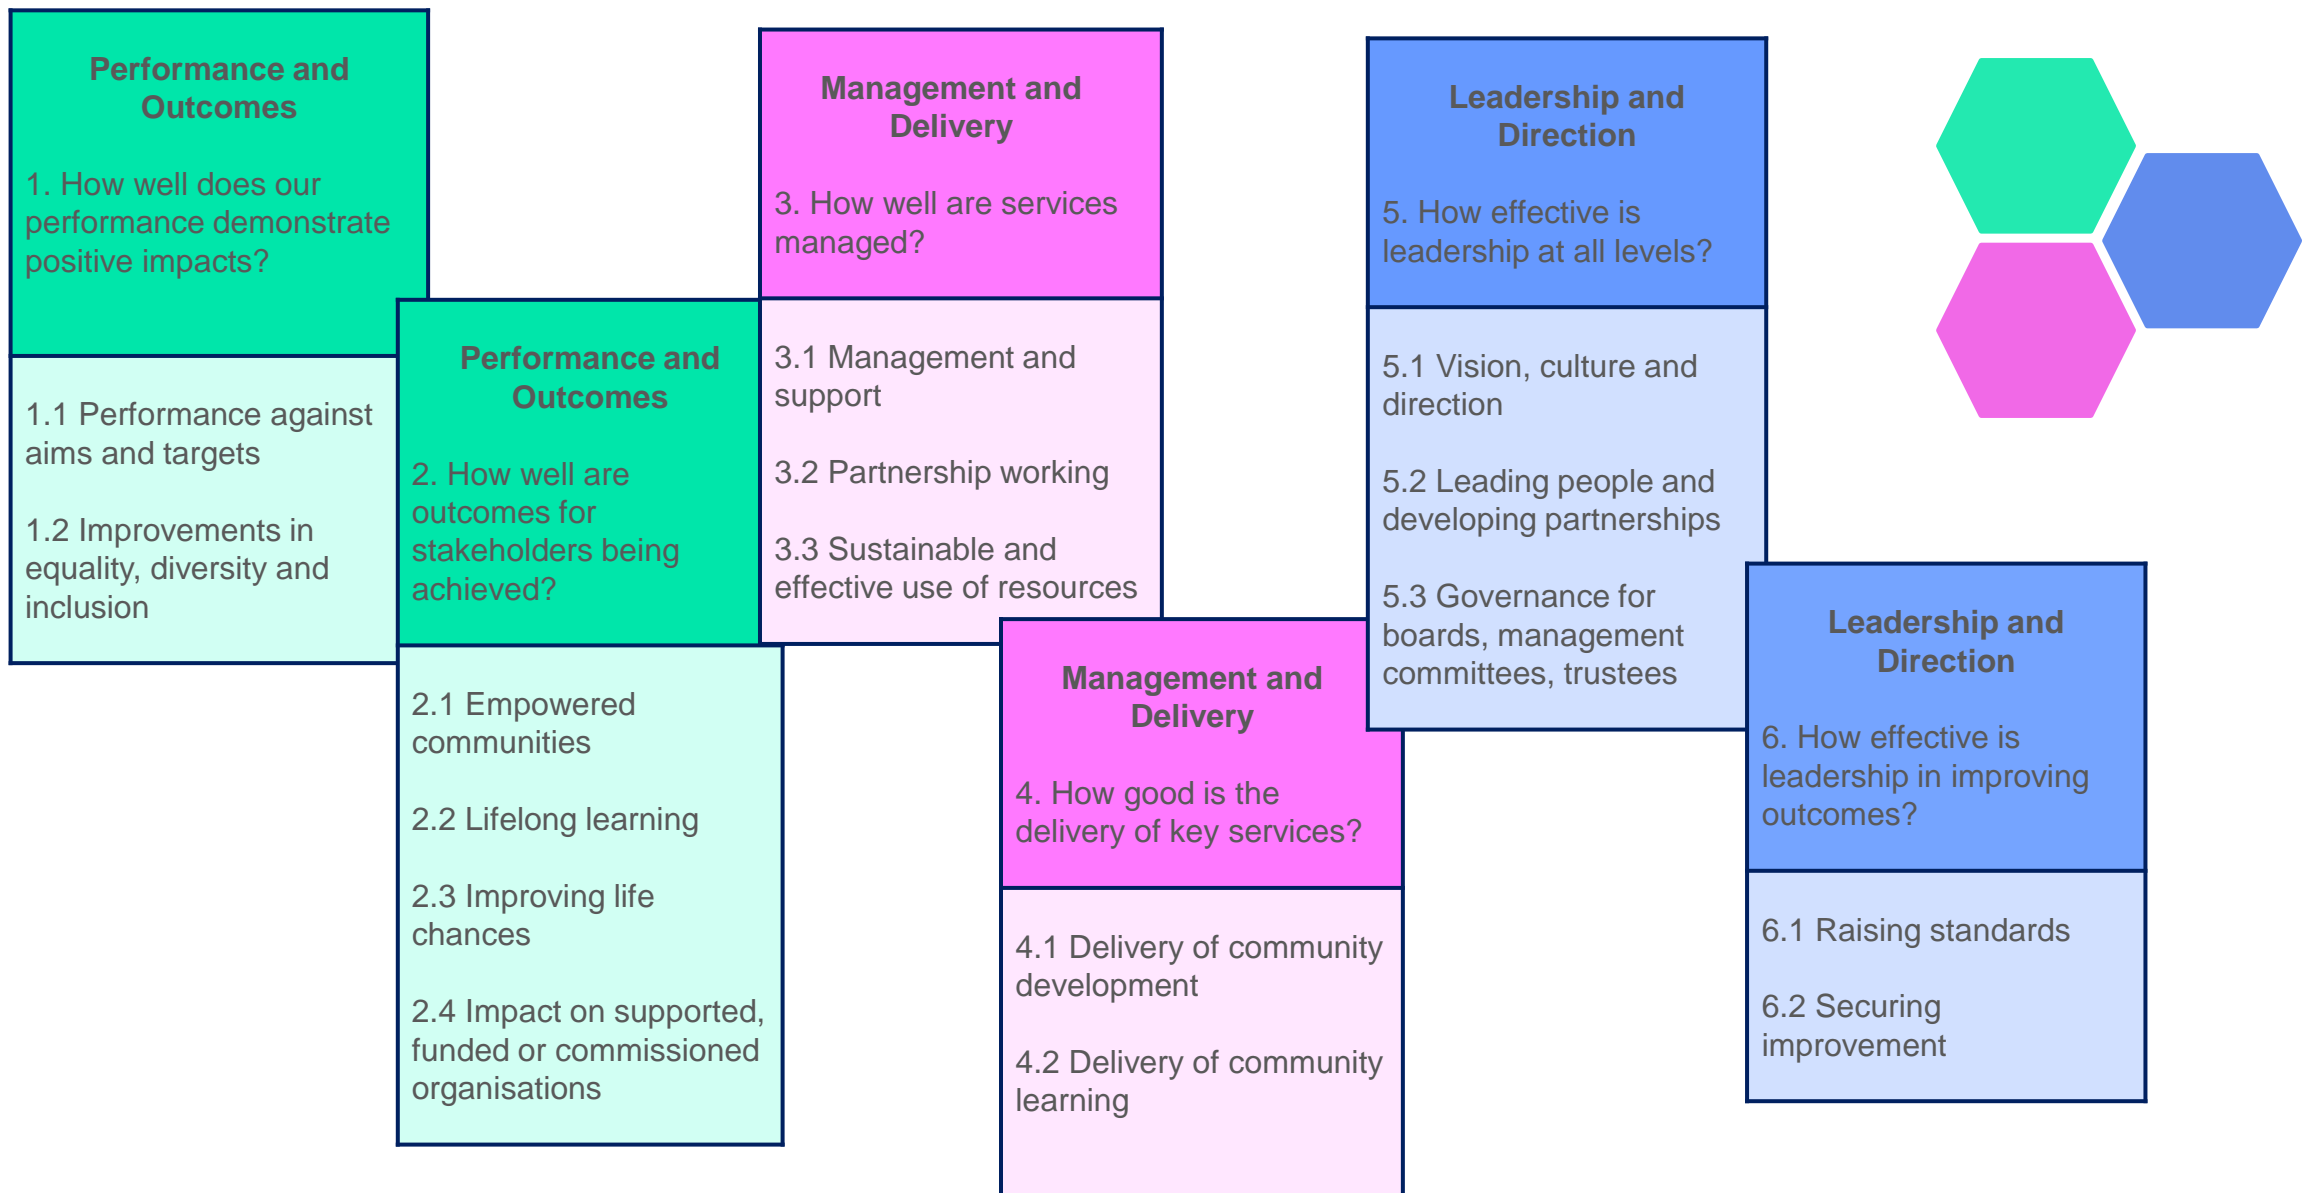

How good is our Community Learning and Development?

HGIOCLD? (4th edition)

- ❑ 16 Quality indicators (QIs) in three sections, under six core questions:
 - Performance and outcomes.
 - Management and delivery.
 - Leadership and direction.

- ❑ Each QI has three themes each with an illustration of very good and challenge questions that cover all of the QI.

Key considerations, features and changes

- Even greater focus on addressing inequality.
- Expectation of partnership working within every QI.
- Every quality indicator can be used by every practitioner. For example, the leadership QIs are not only for those in senior positions.
- Greater clarity between outcomes and the practice that supports these outcomes.
- Better reflection across all of CLD - third sector, public services, partnerships and those that use CLD methodologies in their work.
- Reflects the changes in Scottish education and community empowerment.

QIs link to each other

2.1 Empowered communities

This indicator looks at how strong, active and inclusive communities of interest and geography are. It considers the difference volunteers and community organisations make. It also looks at how influential communities are and how equal their partnerships are with other services.

Themes:

- Active and delivering
 - Inclusive and strong
 - Influential and equal

4.1 Delivery of community development

This indicator looks at how well services and organisations deliver community development support and increase community capacity. It examines how well practitioners build trusting, valued and respectful relationships with communities. It looks at what structures and systems are in place to empower communities.

Themes:

- Building capacity
 - Effective relationships
 - Increasing influence

Leadership and Direction

5. How effective is leadership at all levels?

5.1 Vision, culture and direction

- Vision, values and aims
- Culture, ethos and equity
- Leading change

5.2 Leading people and developing partnerships

- Leadership at all levels
- Building and sustaining a strong workforce
- Co-production and partnerships

5.3 Governance for boards, management committees, trustees

- Make-up and role
- Leadership
- Monitoring and improvement

6. How effective is leadership in improving outcomes?

6.1 Raising standards

- Governance
- Legislation and policies
- Meeting standards and managing risks

6.2 Securing improvement

- Quality Assurance
- Self-evaluation
- Capacity for improvement

❑ QIs 6.1 and 6.2 are about improvement

- How are you as leaders using these to drive improvement?
- How effective is self-evaluation in your context?

❑ Self-evaluation for improvement, not inspection

- and remember... self-evaluation without external evaluation can become self-delusion!

Using the Challenge Questions from 6.1 and 6.2

1. How do we know that our leadership at all levels is strong and effective?
2. How do we know that our governance of CLD is effective, efficient and robust?
3. How good are our quality assurance processes to enable us to monitor and report on our progress?
4. How well do our quality assurance processes help in identifying and planning for continuous improvement?
5. How well do we use research and sharing of effective practice to reflect on and improve our own practice and performance?
6. How do we ensure there is a continued focus on improvement outcomes for learners and communities?
7. How well equipped are leaders to consider and agree their overall capacity to improve?

□ Group exercise (15 minutes)

- Group 1 - questions 1 and 2
- Group 2 - questions 3 and 4
- Group 3 - questions 5 and 6
- If you have time, also consider question 7

□ Discuss how you could use these challenge questions in your context

HOW GOOD IS OUR COMMUNITY LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT?

How good is our community learning and development?

How good is our community learning and development? (HGIOCLD?) 4th edition is part of a suite of quality frameworks developed by Education Scotland. These frameworks set out the standards we use to evaluate and report on quality and improvement in Scottish education.

This is a final draft version of the framework. CLD services, organisations, partnerships and practitioners can now use to support their self-evaluation. HMIIE will also use it to support scrutiny activities. A final version will be published online in 2022. The final version will take account of our learning in using this final draft. This may result in some changes to text. We will publish case studies on how practitioners have used the framework, this will support others to feel confident in using it.

CLD Progress Visits – emerging findings

- ❑ Leadership and Direction: How effective is the leadership of the local authority and their CLD partners in improving outcomes?
 - Governance – (QI 6.1 Raising standards)
 - Capacity for improvement – (QI 6.2 Securing improvement)

- ❑ Performance and outcomes: How well does the performance of the local authority and their CLD partners demonstrate positive impact?
 - Analysis and use of data and other information (QI 1.1 Performance against aims and targets)
 - Success for all (QI 2.3 Improving life chances)
 - Skills for learning life and work (QI 2.3 Improving life chances)

□ Group exercise (15 minutes)

- Where leadership is less than effective, what might be the causes/factors at play?
- What are the current challenges facing all local authorities? (national context)
- What are the current challenges for your area? (local/regional context)
- You could also think of this in terms of a SWOT or PESTLE analysis.

□ How might CLD leaders overcome these challenges to drive forward improvement?
